that if we extrapolate these data the estimates are that global three-quarters of the world's fish stocks on the high seas She also cited U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization estimates in Marine Policy, to coincide with this week's U.N. conference.
Both were published in journals online, one in Science, the other she called "the deplorable state of fisheries on the high seas."